What is transition?

Transition means change. As you grow from being a teenager to an adult, many things in your life will change.

What is a Transition Plan?

There will be an important meeting when you are in Year 9.
This is called a Transition Planning meeting. You will be the most important person at the meeting.

Would you like to know more? What should you do next?

The 'Things for young people to think about to get ready for Transition' leaflet will tell you more about:

- your rights
- your responsibilities
- your learning choices at 14
- your learning choices at 16
- other choices
- meetings to plan your future

What should you do now?

- ask your Connexions Personal Adviser for the leaflet 'Things for young people to think about to get ready for Transition'
- talk to your Connexions Personal Adviser about your transition
- show the leaflets to your parents/carers
- think, talk and plan with your parents/carers
- ask your teacher or Connexions Personal Adviser for a copy of the 'What Next' booklet
- ask your teacher or Connexions Personal Adviser for further relevant information on Transition Pathways.

Visit the following websites for details on Transition Pathway (please note that the web pages relating to Brighter Futures and Transitions will be available by late Summer 2009, but the Connexions Birmingham website is already operational).

- Brighter Futures website: www.birmingham.gov.uk/brighter-futures
- Birmingham City Council website: www.birmingham.gov.uk/transition
- Connexions Birmingham: www.birmingham.gov.uk/connexions

If you would like this information in any other format e.g. Braille or Audio Tape, Large Print or Community Languages, it is available on request, please contact 0121 675 2897.

CYPF 286/311b ©Birmingham City Council • June 2009 • Q37572

Transition Pathway

Improving lives for young people

Birmingham City Council

children & young people matter BIRMINGHAM

connexions