

Have you heard?

Birmingham Supporting People are consulting on what housing support services they want to commission.

There are proposed changes to some services and a suggestion for a new service:

- We would like to expand our services for homeless people to include support for families.
- We would like to expand our service for people involved in gun and gang lifestyles to include women as well as men.
- We would like to have a new service for male victims of domestic violence.

We want to know your views
