

A Birmingham Forum for Action on Careers and Enterprise

Did you know that there is a group of committed Birmingham professionals wanting to help you solve those careers and enterprise problems and concerns that often arise? Introducing the FACE group, a collaboration of partners whose mission is to help young people in the city achieve their full potential and career goals.

Read more about what we can do for schools and colleges as they help young people navigate their futures or contact Julie Stirrup for more advice about the group: Julie.A.Stirrup@birmingham.gov.uk

- Advice on meeting the Gatsby benchmarks
- Support for careers education programmes
- Raising aspirations to help young people reach their potential
- Supporting young people to develop the skills that employers are looking for
- Local priority growth sectors and jobs market information
- Targeted support for at risk students
- Links to local employers and opportunities
- Employability support for young people Not in Employment, Education or Training
- Careers advice for 16 to 24 year olds not in employment, education or training
- Opportunity to learn from schools and colleges offering successful careers and enterprise programmes, events and activities

