National identity card bearing a photograph	Electoral Register entry

Proof of identity for agents, companies and other legal structures

Where an agent makes the claim on behalf of their principal, they will need to produce proof of name and address of themselves and their principal and proof of authority to act as agent. Where the seized property is a vehicle with a registration mark, and the person claiming entitlement purports to be the registered keeper of the vehicle, they must produce the registration document. Any claim made for recovery by a vehicle hire company will require production of authority to requisition the vehicle from the hirer and the recovery agent will be required to provide the name and address proofs described above.

ADVISORY – In compliance with Birmingham City Council’s duties under the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 relating to the prevention, apprehension or detection of crime, in terms of the furtherance of public safety and compliance with road traffic regulations no vehicle will be released in circumstances where the Council’s seizure recovery agent has reasonable grounds to believe that the vehicle is to be driven away, on a public road, by a person who holds no valid insurance to drive the vehicle. (This will not apply where a vehicle is collected by means of a recovery vehicle).
