Introduction

The way that we deliver children's centres, health visiting services and parenting support services in Birmingham is changing.

Have your say on our proposals for a new service model that will bring these services together, for you, in your local area.

All parents want the best for their children.

We want to support parents and families.

We want to provide every child living in Birmingham with an equal chance to have a really good start in life.

We feel this will be achieved if every child has reached a good level of development by the time they start school.

Early Years Services support families from the point that a child is conceived, until they start school.

These services are available to everyone.

We feel these services are a key part in building healthy and happy families.

Birmingham's Early Years Services provide support to around 100,000 parents and 80,000 children.

Why do we need to change Early Years Services?

Currently fewer children in Birmingham are assessed as having a good level of development just before they start school (the foundation stage) than the national average.

We have been working to improve this and we are now better than some other big cities.

We have some examples of services that are well joined up and when this happens more children who use them do well.

This doesn't happen enough and we want to extend this by joining up services across the city, so that every child has the best chance of a good start in life.

Over the last two years we have been rethinking the way we want to deliver support to children and families during their Early Years.

Between November 2015 and February 2016, 3428 people shared their views with us about our plans.

We have listened to the views of parents, professionals and other citizens and have used these to design our new proposed service model.

The new services will be run by Birmingham Community Healthcare NHS Foundation Trust in partnership with Barnardo's, Spurgeons Children's Charity (Spurgeons), St Paul's Community Development Trust and The Springfield Project.

What you told us during the first consultation:

3428 people gave us their views as part of the first consultation, 1428 of these views were from parents of children aged under 5.

81% of those who responded told us that they supported our vision to give every child an equal chance to have a good start in life.

To reflect this, over 70% said that we should make some services available to all and then offer additional help to those children and families who needed it most.

Those who responded said that the following were the most important services for them:

- High quality advice and information
- Help to access services
- A range of services to meet the needs of local children

75% agreed with our proposal to deliver services in the places that children and families use the most.

70% also told us that they felt that parents could, if well supported, help to run services at a local level.

What you told us was important during the first consultation:

Help to access services

Continue to deliver services of this type in the future

High quality advice and information

Make services welcoming for all

A range of services to meet the needs of local children

Keep the best of the current services and ensure that staff are well trained and knowledgeable

Keep stay and play services

Find ways of better promoting services

Allow families to choose where and how they accessed the support they wanted

Why are we consulting with you now?

We have used the feedback that you gave us as in the first stage of consultation to help us to design the new service model.

We now have a lot more detail about what this will mean for the way that services are delivered locally and we would like to ask for your opinions on these proposals.

When this consultation ends on 17 August 2017 we will consider what you have told us. We will listen to the comments you have made. we will make a recommendation to Cabinet in September 2017. Once the Cabinet decision has been made the outcome will be shared with you.

Our Proposed New Service Model

In our proposed new service model services are delivered from 10 defined Districts across the city.

We know that there are differences between the needs of the children and families that live in different parts of the city.

We are also proposing that the services and locations for each district are tailored to meet the needs of local parents and children.

The following describes the types of services that we are proposing will be available in each District. Services in each District can be found later in this document.

Children's Health and Wellbeing Services will offer parents access to the following:

Health Visitors

Well-baby Clinics

Information, advice and guidance

Breastfeeding Support

Stay and play

Access to training and employment support

Parenting support groups and sessions

Onwards Referrals to other services

Targeted Support

Support to access Early Education Entitlement and Childcare

The level of services a family receives will vary and be based on their needs.

Children Health & Wellbeing Services will be open from 9am – 5pm Monday to Friday.

Extended opening hours from 5pm-8pm in the evening will be available at least once a week and one weekend a month, either Saturday or Sunday, where local parents need them most.

Children's Community Health and Wellbeing Services will offer parents access to the following:

Health Visitors

Well-baby Clinics

Information, advice and guidance

Breastfeeding Support

Stay and play

Access to training and employment support

Parenting support groups and sessions

Onwards Referrals to other services

Targeted Support

Support to access Early Education Entitlement and childcare

These services will be delivered on a sessional basis (i.e. three hour weekly sessions) in a number of other locations within the local community.

Local parents will help to identify the best locations for these sessions which could include places like churches, mosques, community centres or health centres.

The sessions will be well advertised & held at regular weekly times.

Easy and instant access to advice and information

Baby Check App – contains 19 simple checks which test for different symptoms or signs of illness, the app will help parents to decide whether their baby needs to visit a doctor

Phone line – a telephone helpline for instant advice to those who cannot, or do not need to, travel to a centre for help and advice. This will operate from 9am to 5pm Monday-Friday and will be staffed by a trained Health Visitor

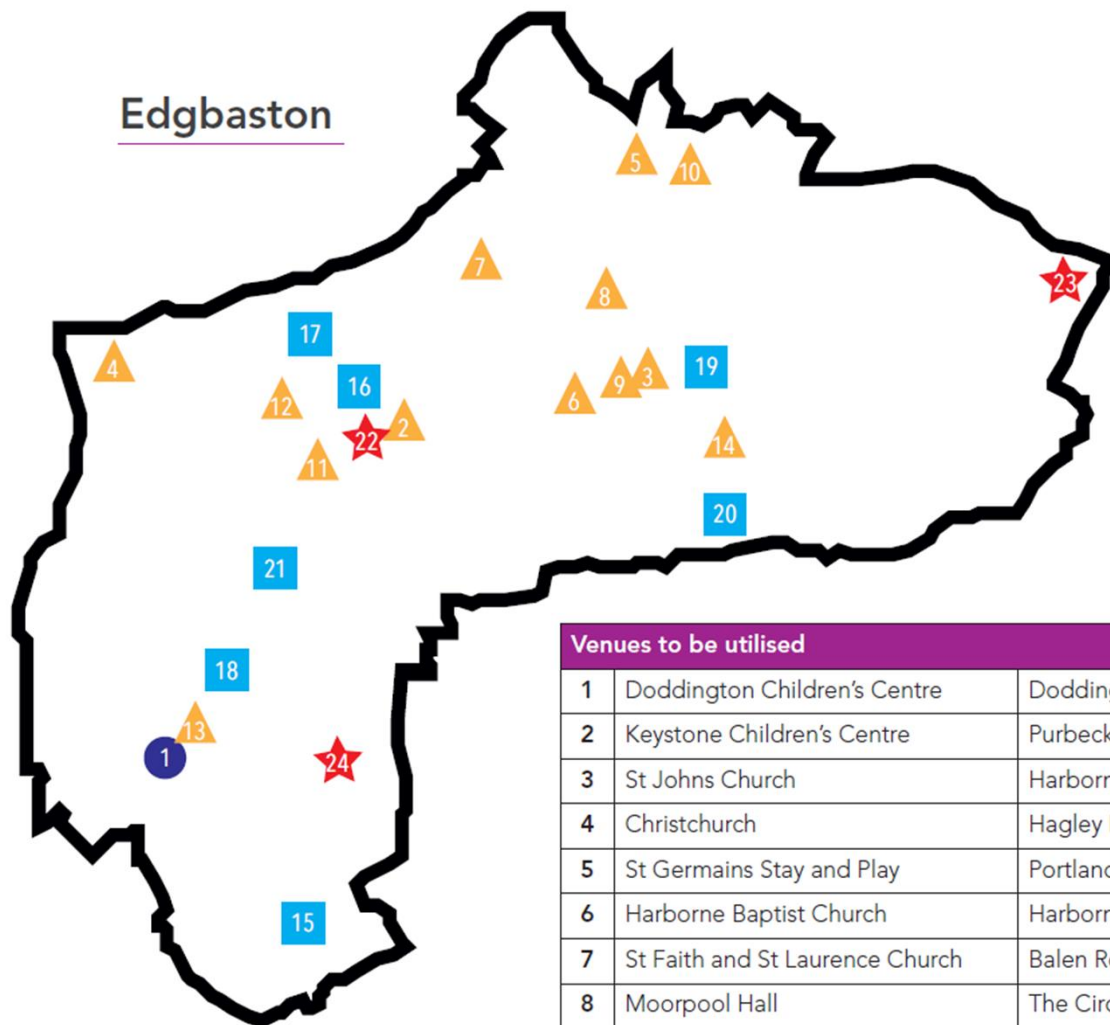

Facebook page – providing parents with a useful resource of information with links to the website, as well as promoting public health messages

Website – will provide information on the services available for each district as well as providing information and promoting public health messages

Well-baby Clinics will be run by Health Visitors at a number of GP practices and health centres across the city.

These clinics will provide parents with access support on a number of issues; for example the health and development of babies, and children.
