"FIRE - WORKS ON THE BRAIN."

Written and Composed

by G. W. MOORE.

I met a little girl while walking,
Oh! wasn't it nice!
Soon we commenced our talking,
Now Gents take my advice;
For this little girl that I met,
Although it was in the rain,
She looked at me so very cool,
Yet she had fire-works on the brain.

CHORUS. { Yes, up they go in the air, boys,
As fast as the lightning train,
This little girl that I met.
Had fire-works on the brain.

I made an appointment for the next day,
Oh! wasn't it nice!
To go to the Crystal Palace,
It's true upon my life;
We left that very day early,
By the nine G.M. train,
Shall we see them to-night dear, yes,
She had fire-works on the brain.

CHORUS.

"Your name," she says "Lucinda,
Oh! wasn't it nice!
You naughty cheeky little man, now,
Just take my advice;
Have you ever been to Cremorne,
That's the place for a lark,
The fire-works are such jolly fun,
You can see them in the dark.

CHORUS. { Yes, up they go in the air, boys,
As fast as the lightning train,
This little girl that I met,
Had fire works on the brain.

I put my arm around her,
Oh! wasn't it nice!
Then I squeezed her little hand,
I did, I kissed her twice;
Since then, I have married Lucinda,
Of my lot I'll not complain,
We've got a little boy and girl both marked
With fire-works on the brain.
